Marquer comme terminé

This optional writing task will allow to practice your writing skills using ChatGPT for feedback.

In this course, you will be working with ChatGPT or another chatbot of your choosing (Bing chat, for example, which is free). Do the assignment, submit it to ChatGPT, and consult the correction.

Beware, however, that conversational agents can make mistakes: if you have any doubts about the correction, write in the forum and send the link to your conversation with ChatGPT (click on ⬆ in ChatGPT, copy the link and paste it in the forum).

Your task:

You're a French student who's just been accepted on a one-year exchange programme at Dexter University. In order to get more information about your future student life, you decide to send an email to Jason Miller, a Dexter University student who's volunteered to welcome and help new-comers.

> 1. Begin with a friendly greeting.
>
> 2. Briefly introduce yourself and explain why you are writing   **?
>
> 3. Explain that you have already looked up information about the university: tell about what you've discovered and express your enthusiasm
>
> 4. Ask questions about on-campus accommodation and explain what your plan is
>
> 5. Ask about fraternity and sorority communities that you know only through American films and series
>
> 6. Ask for more advice about how to easily integrate the university's student community.
>
> 7. Inform Jason that you will take part in the Admitted Students Day in case he plans to be there too.
>
> 8. End by thanking Jason and tell him you hope to meet him soon.

Write 200 words. Be sure to use information and arguments from the documents in the listening and reading activities.

Once you have completed your writing, copy & paste the prompt below into ChatGPT, inserting the topic and your text.

Prompt for ChatGPT

I am a student and I have written a 150-word response in English to the question: [COPY & PASTE TOPIC HERE].

Please explain any mistakes in my response in a table with 2 columns (incorrect, correct) then give me detailed explanation in French to help me understand my mistakes, and a corrected version of my work in English. Then, provide general feedback in French using CEFR as a reference. Please give a title to each part (récapitulatif, explications, version corrigée, feedback).

Here is my response: [COPY & PASTE WRITING HERE]
